Established in 2004, Central Ohio Urology Group (COUG) provides a full suite of urological services and comprehensive individualized treatment for its patients, including men's health, women's health and cancer care.

We understand that urological and sexual health issues can range from embarrassing to painful and life threatening. We strive to make our patients feel comfortable, and to provide the information and options they need to make an informed choice.

In addition to its urology and cancer care services, COUG provides a full complement of integrated urologic services, including in-house dispensary, radiology, pathology, radiation treatment, diagnostic imaging and lab.
